Program#:	AD302; IDCEC 30239	Credits:	1 LU Hour; 1 IDCEC CEU
Program:	Aesthetically Designed Architectural Door Openings	HSW:	Yes

---

Description: An overview of the importance and choices available to improve the aesthetics of architectural door openings with a continuous design theme.

A/V Needed: Electrical power and a screen for the PowerPoint or slide presentation. (The CES facilitator supplies the laptop and projectors.)

Learning Objectives: At the conclusion of this program, participants will be able to: 1) Write clear, correct, and concise specifications for aesthetically designed architectural openings; 2) explore benefits and understand challenges of utilizing aesthetic doors and hardware; 3) consider the various codes related to doors and hardware, which affect product selection; and, (4 describe various designs and color/finishes available to create an aesthetically pleasing opening.

Target Audience: Architects, specifiers, owners and other design professionals in the non-residential market. The ideal audience size can be from 6 to over 50. This program meets every experience level with time designed into the program for questions and answers.

How Taught: The CES facilitator utilizes a PowerPoint or slide presentation to introduce the audience to the architectural hardware industry, giving them a general overview of architectural hardware. The facilitator will explain various hardware components of a door opening, and how they work together. Emphasis will be on coordination between disciplines, and specification practices. Samples of various hardware items will be used to illustrate salient points. Participants receive a reference sheet as a handout.

Facilitator Questions: All ASSA ABLOY CES facilitators have been trained on CES guidelines and presentation skills. In addition, they receive continuous in-depth training on Specifications and understanding the Building Design Process.

Costs: There is no cost to bring this program into your firm or chapter meeting.
